Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and retires the tired mind.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—look three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced."

"WHAT MEDICINES ARE MOST CALLED FOR?"

asked the reporter of an old druggist. "They are sold under a positive guarantee that they will, in every case, give satisfaction, or the money is promptly refunded. His 'Favorite Prescription,' for all those chronic weaknesses, nervous and other derangements peculiar to women, is used with untiring success. It cures weak back, bearing-down sensations, irregularities and weaknesses common to the sex, and being the most perfect of tonic medicines, being so and strengthening the entire system. The demand for it is constant, and I am conversant with scores of cases cured by it." Returning after a few moments' absence, the venerable wielder of the pestle remarked, the number of sarsaparillas and other, so-called 'blood medicines' is legion, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery outshines them all and it is the only blood-purifier out of the many which I am obliged to keep upon my shelves, that is guaranteed to benefit or cure in all cases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it is refunded." "In the line of Pills," remarked the old gentleman, "the little Sugar-coated 'Pilets' put up by Dr. Pierce lead all others, both in amount of sales and the general satisfaction they give my customers."

"Funny!" Well, I should say so! Look at the one in short lace skirt to the knees, rubber boots, bare arms, an immense muff, straw hat, and—a beard! 'What is it?' Why, that is 'A Modern Columbus' in the burlesque of that name given by a dramatic club of the celebrated Seventh Regiment of New York, and these illustrations and the account of it are, as you see, in Demorest's Family Magazine for July, which has just arrived."

The current number of Good House keeping is rich and varied in contents. How to take care of the hair, how to clean carpets, to serve a cherry luncheon, to go to Europe, to assist the doctor in 14 ways, and to frame pictures tastily, are treated in special articles, in addition to which there is a good story, a variety of original verse, and the usual departments. Clark W. Bryan & Co., Springfield, Mass., publishers.

As my department of school work has so increased that during the coming year it will necessarily demand my entire time and attention I will sell my store—one of the largest trades in school books and school supplies in the county, and one of the most desirable business stands in Hillsboro. Will sell at a bargain and on easy terms. Apply to L. DETWILER.

Why buy bastard points and land-sides for the Imperial plow when you can get the genuine at the Hillsboro Hardware Company?
